Preface:

In order to detail the Stebbins family genealogy, the reader should also refer to the Fisk, Green, and Wells family trees. In addition, due to inconsistencies in spelling in prior research and descendant's changing of spelling, "Fisk" may be used as "Fiske" and "Green" may be used as "Greene." The reader should thus consider both spellings to be equivalent.

According to The Stebbins Genealogy by Ralph Stebbins Greenlee and Robert Lemuel Greenlee, Vol. 1, 1904, Chicago, IL, Privately Printed in two volumes...

Rowland Stebbins likely born in or near the parish of Stebbing, Essex County. While in England, he is said to have been a friend of William Pynchon, who was born in 1590 in Springfield (10 miles from Stebbing). William Pynchon came to New England in 1629 and was the principal founder of Roxbury, MA, where Rowland settled upon his arrival in New England in 1634 or 1635. In 1636, William Pynchon purchased Agawam (afterwards named Springfield) from the Indians. Rowland lived in Agawam with his family in 1639. In his will, dated March 1, 1669-70, Rowland appoints Captain John Pynchon, son of William, as one of the overseers of his will.
